

THE STAR AND TIMES BEGIN NEWS, FEATURES EXCHANGE

The New York Times Service today joins the news services that supplement The Star's own coverage of national and international events.

The Star will be carrying news reports from The Times as well as commentary and criticism by such well-known Times writers as James Reston, Russell Baker, Tom Wicker, Clive Barnes and others.

Also starting today, news and feature material from The Star will be transmitted on The Times News Service wire for use by more than 300 newspapers in the United States and abroad.
